SOCIAL AND PERSONALDinner Guests Entertained by Secretary and Mrs. Gage.

Other Hosts Were Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Olmsted-Senator and Mrs. Scott's Reception at the Shoreham-Senator and Mrs. Mason Also Received.

The Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Gage entertained at dinner last night, when their guests were Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, D. D., and Mrs. Mackay-Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins, the Director of the Census and Mrs. Merriam, Representative and Mrs. Newlands, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Foulke, Mr. and Mrs. Cropper, Dr. and Mrs. Loring, Miss Edith Patton, the Secretary of the Navy and Mr. Vanderbilt. The floral decorations of the table were artistically carried out in green and white.

Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks were among the entertainers of last night. Their guests at dinner included Senator and Mrs. Lindsay, Representative and Mrs. Delzell, the First Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. William Alden Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCormick, Representative and Mrs. Landis, Representative and Mrs. Crumpacker, Mrs. Harkin, Mrs. Shunk, Senator Dillingham and Representative Gardner.

Senator and Mrs. Scott of West Virginia entertained the Cabinet, Supreme Court and Congressional circles last night at a reception at the Shoreham, it being the largest and most elaborate reception of the kind held at the Capital this season. The receiving hour was 9 o'clock, and there were present throughout the evening over 900 guests. Senator and Mrs. Scott received in the ballroom of the hotel, the latter gown elegantly in grey satin and light lace. They were assisted by Mrs. Stephen B. Ekins, who was, as always, queenly looking in an especially attractive toilet of black lace. Palms and Southern similar with quantities of pink roses and orchids formed the decorations, and everywhere the lights burned under delicate rose pink shades. On orchestra added to the evening's charm.

Senator and Mrs. Mason held a reception yesterday, when their 500 guests were members of the Illinois Republican Association of the District and their families. The house of the host and hostess on Columbia Road was thrown hospitably open and decorated throughout with flowers and vines.

The daughters and son of the house are accomplished musicians and during the reception rendered a programme of concerted numbers that would have reflected credit upon professionals. Miss Rabel Mason presided at the piano, while Miss Ruth and Winifred played the violin and their brother Ernest the mandolin.

Mrs. A. S. Worthington contributed a dance to the social programme of last night. The pretty affair was in honor of Miss Florence Worthington, the youngest daughter of the hostess, and the 125 guests included all of the season's buds and a number of the debutantes of last year. Mrs. Worthington received in a gown of pompadour pink silk trimmed with pink velvet and lace. Mrs. Frailey, her married daughter, wore white satin. Miss Worthington sat in of delicate lace. The young daughter, for whom the dance was given, was ideally pretty in cream white embroidered with silver, with which she wore a corsage cluster of yellow roses.

The ball room was decked elaborately with palms and Southern similar and an artistic contrast was furnished by knots and streamers of pink ribbons. The supper table was ablaze with pink roses and the lights were veiled with pink shades. Among the guests of the evening were Miss Alice Hay, Miss Sargent, Miss McCauley, Miss Louise Lieber, Miss Webb, Miss Sanger, Miss Perot, Miss Carberry, Miss Annie Brown, Miss Hildegarde McKenna, Miss Hitchcock, Surgeon General and Mrs. Sternberg, Mr. and Mrs. Van Reypen, Mr. Pulido and Mr. Corea.

Representative and Mrs. Olmsted's guests at dinner last evening were General and Mrs. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Shuldberg, Colonel and Mrs. Bingham, Justice and Mrs. McKenna, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Legare, Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer, Mrs. Postlethwaite, and Senator Depeu.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover entertained at dinner last night.

Mrs. William Farrington Aldrich and Mrs. Lillian Aldrich Pratt, of Atlantic, held one of the largest and most attractive dinners of the season yesterday afternoon. The drawing rooms of the family residence in New Hampshire Avenue were fragrant with La France roses and carnations, and the tables were laden with flowers decked and shaded with acetylene lights. The hostess wore a strikingly handsome toilet of white satin and tulle, and the guests were dressed in the latest styles. They were assisted in receiving by the Misses Tongue, of Oregon, and Miss Hoskins, of Alabama.

Mrs. Kernochan, of New York, who has taken 22 Lafayette Square for the winter, entertained at dinner last night.

Mrs. and Miss Biscoe will be at home February 8.

Mrs. Daniel Lothrop, of Concord, Mass., National President of the Society of the Children of the American Revolution, is in town, to receive many guests on March 1, at 1225 Connecticut Avenue.

Mrs. H. Clay Evans and the Misses Evans will be at home for the last time this season this afternoon at the Cairo.

Mrs. Anson Mills will be at home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Thompson was at home yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6.

Mrs. Donald C. MacLeod, 315 Indiana Avenue, will not receive today.

AN EXALTED MASON BURIED.

Joseph C. Taylor Interred With Military Honors at Arlington.

The funeral of the late Joseph Clarence Taylor, a thirty-third degree Mason, took place at his late residence, 530 Third Street north-west, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There were many beautiful floral offerings presented by the various civic and patriotic societies of which Mr. Taylor was a member.

The services were conducted by the Rev. R. P. Williams, of Trinity Episcopal Church, after which the remains were taken in charge by the Masonic fraternity, with which he had been identified for many years past. Interment was made at Arlington, where the Masonic funeral rites were performed by Oasis Lodge, No. 26, and Burial Lodge, G. A. R. A volley was fired over the grave by a detachment of cavalry from Fort Myer and taps sounded by a trumpet.

IN THE HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Capt. Evan P. Howell, of Atlanta, Ga., is a guest at the Raleigh. Speaking to a party of friends in the lobby last night he remarked on the subject of insomnia: "Down in our State they say that the best thing you can do when you can't sleep is to get up, go to your private cabinet, and take a drink of good whisky. Then go back to bed and await results. If in the next half hour sleep still refuses to come to you, get up again and take another drink of whisky. This operation should be repeated at intervals of thirty minutes. It's bound to do some good and by and by, no experts declare, you won't care whether you go to sleep or not."

"If we sell out to the British for war purposes in South Africa," said Edward Van Ness, of New York, at the Shoreham last night, "I can't see why we should not also be permitted to sell warships to the Boers. One as much as the other is contraband goods. A horse is a ship on land, carrying and transporting soldiers, ammunition, and supplies, and the sea doing the same service. This country is at peace with both parties. Great Britain and the Boers, but seems to me that we are discriminating in favor of the British."

"Certainly the war is popular," said R. H. Fowler, of London, at the Shoreham last night. "We were not the aggressors. It was forced on us. Joe Chamberlain is very popular on account of his fine management of this very difficult question. Yes; we will prosecute the war until there isn't anything to show of the South African Republics. We will fight to the very end. I don't think that the future policy of Great Britain will differ very much, if any, from the heretofore successfully conducted policy of Lord Salisbury. I am going to California on pleasure as well as business; I am an agricultural engineer. This is not my first visit to this country. I like it very much."

Representative Paris of Indiana, speaking of the prospect of an extra session of Congress, said last night at the Ebbitt: "I don't think it's at all necessary or wise to call an extra session and I think it extremely premature to decide upon a civil government for either Cuba, Porto Rico, or the Philippines. We don't know how the cases which are now pending before the Supreme Court may turn out. The Supreme Court knows the full importance of the matter before them. The question strikes at the very vitals of our governmental structure."

"We may have to back track from these countries, and we would be in a very precarious condition should we decide on a certain course of government before we know how the Supreme Court stands in the matter. All legislation relating to establishment of civil government in these islands is premature and we should not undertake it."

John L. Hawthorne, collector of the port of Chester, Pa.; Dr. John MacFayden, superintendent of the Chester, Pa., Traction Company; Col. Dick Plunkett, of Oklahoma Territory; Paul Morgan, Edward Schwaband, and Hal S. Tibbals, Secretary of the Union Electric Construction Company, the latter of Philadelphia; are registered at the Metropolitan. These gentlemen are here to see about putting the Union Electric Construction Company's new system of electric railroad in the Washington Navy Yard. Said Dr. MacFayden last night: "This new system is in operation in Norway, and it is one of its cheaper and safer methods of manipulating I dare say will supersede the overhead and underground systems in the near future."

REACHED THE AGE LIMIT.

Rear Admiral Kautz Closes an Honorable Naval Career.

Rear Admiral Kautz was placed on the retired list yesterday on account of having reached the age limit. He is succeeded in command of the Pacific station by Rear Admiral Casper.

The father of Rear Admiral Kautz was a carpenter in Ispringer Valley, Potsdam, Germany, and emigrated to this country in 1823, landing in Baltimore, where he remained for two years. Subsequently he removed to Brown county, Ohio, where the future rear admiral was born, the last of six boys and one girl. Young Kautz attended the school at Georgetown, Ohio, and in 1841 entered the Annapolis Academy, graduating four years later.

His first duty at sea was on the home squadron, attached to the frigates Colorado, Roanoke, and Savannah. In June, 1861, he was captured in sight of Cape Hatteras by the privateer Winslow, Capt. Thomas Cropper, paroled for two months, incarcerated at Richmond, Va., and then transferred to the Hartford in 1862, serving in the engagements at Forts Jackson and St. Philip, the Chalmette battery, and the capture of New Orleans and Vicksburg. Sent North in 1862, he served on the Junia to the West Indian squadron and was first lieutenant in 1864 and 1865 on the Albatross. He served as lieutenant commander on the Vincennes, of the home squadron, and on the flagship Pensacola, of the Pacific squadron, on the receiving ship, New Hampshire and then did duty at the Boston Navy Yard. As commander he saw service on the Monocacy, of the Asiatic station, when he became a light-house inspector, being ordered to the Michigan, which patrolled the Lakes. He was then attached to the Bureau of Equipment of the Navy Department, and from 1884 to 1887 was on duty there and at the Boston Navy Yard as equipment officer. After traveling in Europe for three years he was ordered to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, transferred to the Pensacola in 1890 and was commandant of the Boston Navy Yard.

During the Samoan difficulty about two years ago Rear Admiral Kautz was in command of the American ships stationed at that island, and it was largely through his firm attitude that serious international complications were averted.

"In accordance with section 308 of the Revised Statutes I have the honor to transmit the 'Commercial Relations of the United States With Foreign Countries' During the Year 1900,' being the annual and other reports of a comprehensive character from the consular officers, together with similar reports from some of the diplomatic officers, upon the politics and commerce of foreign countries.
